----- HUMAN REVIEW -----

Customer Query:

I need a refund for my annual subscription.

Generated Response:

According to our Refund Policy (Section 7. Refund Eligibility), a refund may be granted under certain circumstances. For an annual subscription, a refund can be considered if you cancel within 14 days of the initial subscription purchase (cooling-off period), or if a confirmed platform outage exceeding 4 consecutive hours occurred during the billing period, or if duplicate charges were applied due to a billing system error, or if a feature listed on the pricing page at the time of purchase has been permanently removed without an equivalent replacement.

If none of these conditions apply, our Subscription Cancellation Policy (Section 9) states that no pro-rated refunds are issued beyond the 14-day cooling-off period unless an SLA breach occurred.

To proceed with your refund request, could you please provide more details about your reason for requesting a refund?
